

WASHINGTON- Congressman Lee Terry (R-NE) along with Congressman Eliot L. Engel (D-NY) and Congressman Jean Schmidt (R-OH) have introduced the Drug Testing Integrity Act, H.R. 6486. The bill would make it illegal to manufacture, market, sell, ship or provide and individual with any product designed for the purpose of assisting in defeating a drug test.

"Whether it is our athletes or screening new hires for sensitive jobs, we must restore integrity to drug testing. There are many products out there claiming to be able to beat a drug test. We must get these types of products off the market immediately. This is commonsense legislation that will ultimately serve the greater good of society if enacted. With my committee, the Energy and Commerce Committee having jurisdiction over this bill, I urge Chairman Dingell to move this bill to the floor as soon as possible," said Congressman Lee Terry.
